LIMA, OHIO, TUESDAY, MAY 10, 1921

PRICE THREE CENTS

WHY LIMA IS POOR

Lima has been struggling with a shortage of finances for the last few years. Retrenchment has been the cry in the various departments and operating expense has been cut to the minimum because of necessity.

Public improvements have come slowly. A few major projects have been started, but none really completed.

A glance at the cost of engineering on the various improvements, including plans, specifications and supervision of construction, ALL OF WHICH WENT TO EXPERTS WHILE THE CITY MAINTAINED AN ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT, throws some light on the matter and shows to some extent why the city is poor.

Here is a list of the expenditures to experts which have been made or will be made under present arrangements:

Plans, specifications and supervision, water-works extension and improvement already paid	$ 45,835.06
Plans and supervision, relief trunk sewers now under construction (estimated)	96,175.00
Intercepting sewers and sewage disposal plant plans and specifications now under way	25,000.00
Supervision on intercepting sewers and disposal plant to come later (estimated)	75,000.00
General sewer plans now under construction for sewers leading off main trunk sewers	25,000.00
Supervision of general sewers (estimated)	75,000.00
Ohio Electric street railway valuation, now on file with council	8,982.50
City's portion gas expert's salary	200.00

Total $351,192.56

In addition to this amount there are numerous small amounts paid to experts, such as attorneys, bridge and light experts, and others, not included in the above amounts. The city has employed special counsel on almost all of its fights before the courts and utilities commission during the last three or four years. This item would materially increase the amount the people of Lima are paying for experts.

The city engineering department is maintained and equipped to carry on the engineering work for the city, altho it has no hand in the drawing of plans or supervision of work on the major projects. Experts are ALWAYS hired for this work.

City officials have pointed out to them that the city would be ahead on expenses if the city department were charged with handling the work, altho it were necessary to hire more engineers.

GERMANS SURRENDER AS PLAN TO DEFEAT FRANCE

Teutons Now Believe Paris Only Wants Invasion—Factions Race for Acceptance of Allied Terms—Move Is Led By Bernstorff

BERLIN.—(By Associated Press) —Acceptance of the allied ultimatum relative to reparations was expected in the reichstag here today when that body convened. The Centrists and the Majority Socialists, as a result of their conferences yesterday, were believed to have definitely aligned themselves in favor of yielding to the entente demands, and, while the Democratic and German People's parties held a long session last night, debating the matter, it was felt that opposition to the allied terms was rapidly dwindling.

The People's party, headed by Dr. Gustav Stresemann, was reported last night to have become resigned to the inevitable, and it was said it would join the Majority Socialists, not desiring to antagonize the parties making up the government coalition. Yesterday's events appeared to show that the situation had reached its final stage, a competition between the various parties for first place in the assenting columns.

The Majority Socialists adopted a resolution yesterday, pledging their support to "every sincere effort to carry out the terms presented at London, in view of the military coercion and violence with which Germany is threatened." The resolution declared acceptance of the ultimatum would fail of its real purpose if Bavaria did not make an unequivocal declaration that she was prepared to disarm and disband her civilian guards by June 30. The center party yielded to arguments presented by Dr. Wilhelm Mayer, German ambassador to Paris, and would, it was believed today, give undivided support to a resolution expressing Germany's acceptance of the entente demands.

The note sent to Berlin by Premier Briand, of France, in which Germany was informed that the sending of government troops into Upper Silesia would be considered by France as a violation of the Versailles treaty, had an influence in bringing about a decision on the part of several deputies to join the elements ready to accept the allied ultimatum.

BROWN IS NAMED

Harding Picks Toledo Man For Government Reorganization

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press).—Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, has been appointed by President Harding as his personal representative on the commission which is reorganizing the executive branch of the government.

Mr. Brown, long a personal friend of the president and who acted as his financial manager at the Chicago convention last year, probably will be chosen as chairman of the reorganization commission, the other members of which are senators and representatives.

HIRING EXPERTS

FACTS ABOUT LIMA'S 'PAPER GOVERNMENT'

Lima's "paper government" is declared to be reaching a serious stage. Thousands of dollars are being spent for "paper" plans and specifications, supervision of improvements by experts, and special experts in other lines.

The most serious turn in this line just now is the decision to postpone the work on the sewage disposal plant, which has been ordered by the state department of health repeatedly and which is necessary to complete the big sewage system under way and make it of use to the city.

This decision has been made, it is said, because of the new law regulating bonds and the desire of the city government to have plans drawn for sewers which will not be built for years to come.

The council has authorized the letting of a contract to experts which will cost $25,000 for a general sewer system which will come in later years, but which is out of the question at present. An ordinance providing for the letting of this contract has been passed.

If this contract is let it will mean that the next administration, supposed to be founded on sound business principles, will have handed to it paper which cost the city $50,000 to have experts prepare and which the new administration may not want. These will be the plans for the sewage disposal and intercepting sewers and those for the general sewer plan.

In addition to this cost for plans and specifications, which may be out of date by the time the city is ready to start work, an added expense of $150,000 will be incurred in the hiring of experts to carry out the supervision,

if the present plan of hiring an outside expert for every job is carried out. This amount is estimated on the basis of present work—five percent of the cost of construction.

In another column of this page the seriousness of the hiring of experts, while the city is maintaining an engineering department, may be seen. The cost for recent improvement work, none of which is completed, is shown to be more than $350,000. This does not include the minor items, of which there are many, and which would run the amount up to near the $400,000 mark.

Council has made possible the awarding of the contract for the general sewers, which will be improvements to be made long after the present administration has passed out of existence, by the passage of an ordinance. It has not yet been let by Service Director McClain.

ARTIST COMES TO AID OF FIFI

Woman Arrives in New York from London

MADE STILLMAN PORTRAIT

Brings List of Female Names for Attorneys

NEW YORK.—(By United Press) —Zaida Ben Youssef, former society photographer, has arrived in New York from England to offer her assistance to Mrs. James Stillman in the latter's divorce case, it was learned today.

She became acquainted with Stillman, when he called at her New York studio to have his portrait made. Stillman, as well as many other big Wall-st financiers, had several portraits made by Miss Ben Youssef.

The artist had closed her New York studio and gone to London when she heard of the divorce suit. She hurried back to the United States. It was reported today she had a list of names of women which she is ready to turn over to Mrs. Stillman's lawyers in order to be of assistance to her.

Some of the bitterness underlying the divorce suit was explained today, when it was learned that Mrs. Stillman when she first broke with her husband, had an agreement with him whereby she would go to Paris and file action of separation. When she was about to sail aboard the Olympic, agents of the banker's attorneys served her with papers showing he had instituted action in this state. Mrs. Stillman, her friends said, denounced that action as a breach of agreement.

LAWYER PLANS
Mrs. Stillman's lawyers today are planning another invasion of Canada to question persons who were residing near Grand Anse, location of the Stillman farm, during the summer of 1918, when Mrs. Stillman and Fred Beauvais are alleged to have been much in each other's company. Abel Smith and Norman Fitzsimmons, legal investigators for Mrs. Stillman, planned to start for Canada today. Witnesses have been found, it is said, who will refute the "key hole" testimony of persons who testified for Stillman in the divorce hearings.

PLEADS GUILTY

Ohioan Sentenced to Prison in Murder Case

COLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press).—The trial of William A. Adams, on a second degree murder charge for killing Policeman Adolph Schneider last September, was suddenly halted in common pleas court today when Adams pleaded guilty to manslaughter. He was sentenced to one to twenty years in the penitentiary by Judge Kinkead, who recommended that he serve the maximum sentence.

Adams is said to be wanted for burglary in Portsmouth, Ironton, Ashland, Ky., and several other cities in Indiana and Illinois. He has served time at Mansfield and at Jefferson, Ind.

CASE TO BE REVIEWED.
COLUMBUS.—The supreme court today sustained a motion of the Cincinnati board of education for a review of the case in which William McHenry, a minor, obtained a verdict against the board for personal injuries, said to have resulted from dental work performed by direction of school health authorities. The boy said to have a leg amputated as a result of an infection alleged to have been caused from improper dental treatment.

"RIPPER" PETITIONS TO BE SIGNED HERE

Preparations are being made to circulate petitions in Allen-co to obtain a referendum on Governor Davis' state reorganization "ripper" bill. Lehr Miller, chairman of the Democratic county executive committee stated Tuesday. At a meeting of state and county chairmen held in Columbus last week, this action was decided upon.

Chairman Miller has not been informed concerning the number of names expected from this county on the referendum petitions, as final instructions have not been received. A total of 120,000 signatures are expected to be secured in the state.

PARLEYS TO END STRIKE CEASE

Davis Fails in Attempts to Settle Seamen's Walkout

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press) —Representatives of the Marine Workers' organization left Washington today as a result of the announcement of Secretary Davis that his efforts to arrange a settlement of the wage dispute between the workers and the ship-owners had failed. The workers had been "unwilling" and that no further conferences would be held at this time.

Officials of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association declared that no concessions would be made beyond those presented to Mr. Davis and Admiral Benson of the shipping board yesterday. These proposals, based on a vote taken among locals at all ports, were not made public. Chairman Benson is understood to have reiterated his stand for a flat 15 per cent wage reduction.

Secretary Davis, in announcing the failure of the conferences, indicated that negotiations would be reopened later if circumstances warranted such a step.

DOCKS GUARDED

Clashes Threaten in Strikes at Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES.—Mounted police, heavily armed, guarded all approaches to the docks here today to prevent clashes between union and non-union workers.

The port was tightly sealed that recent arrivals were unable to claim their baggage from the customs office.

The police were posted when the employers association announced it would replace striking dock workers with non-union men. Union men threatened violence if they were replaced.

Strikers and strike-breakers made their way as usual to the docks today, but were surprised when halted more than a block from the waterfront. No effort was made to break thru the police cordon.

Among vessels involved in the dispute is the Martha Washington, an American boat chartered by the Sunson Line. It was boycotted by dock workers when its officers refused to accede to demands of union leaders that parts of its crew be paid off.

U. S. TAX BILL IS $3,500,000,000

This Sum Agreed on By Congress Committee

FAILS IN PLAN TO CUT

Program Includes Repeal of Several Levies, However

WASHINGTON.—(By United Press) —America's annual tax bill will be fixed by congress at $3,500,000,000, it plans of leading members of the house ways and means committee, so today.

They would reduce the per-capita taxation to $20 for every man, woman and child in the country, or $3,000,000,000, but with continued larger appropriations, they admit it is doubtful if it can be done.

The composite congressional mind after months of uncertainty seems to be gradually reaching the conclusion as to what taxes shall be imposed on the American people during the next few years. It now appears certain that no sales tax will be enacted at this session, according to several leaders. Tax changes will be along the following lines:

TAXES TO BE REPEALED

- 1—Excess profits, now one of the big sources of revenue.
- 2—Soda water, ice cream and some of the more "obnoxious" consumption levies.
- 3—Transfer taxes.

Some uncertainty exists as to whether the theater admission taxes will be repealed.

NEW TAX BILL

The new tax bill in general will follow these lines:

- 1—Reduced tax rates on higher incomes to the maximum percentage will not be more than 40 per cent.
- 2—Possible lowering of the normal income tax rate from four to three per cent, altho this has some opposition.
- 3—Increased that corporation income tax from 10 to 15 per cent with the imposition of a levy of 15 per cent of undistributed profits of corporations, to make up for the loss caused by repeal of the excess profits tax. It is believed this would tend to prevent issuance of stock dividends, which have been held unattractive.

4—Increased tobacco taxes from 50 to 100.

5—Taxes of $6.40 a gallon on all liquors withdrawn from bond compared with the present rate of $3.50 and $2.20.

Some members have proposed increased levies on automobiles and a federal license for all cars, but there is strong opposition to this.

Taxes on estates, insurance, lodge and club dues, child labor products and the so-called stamp taxes, as applied to various legal documents and business papers, probably will remain the same.

FOUR DIE IN FIRE

Massachusetts Brothers Burned to Death in Home

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(By Associated Press) —Four brothers were burned to death in a fire here early today, which partly destroyed their home.

Starting near the front entrance of the house, the flames spread rapidly and blocked the only exit from the rooms occupied by the youths, who were found dead when reached by firemen.

PEDESTRIANS IN DANGER OF ELECTROCUTION

Death Faced Daily By Lima People Who Cross Car Tracks In N. Main-st., According to Mayor Burkhardt and City Engineer

Stray Currents Set Up Menace For Anyone Stepping On Rails In Such a Manner a Circuit Is Formed—Electrolysis Does Damage.

That pedestrians in Lima daily face electrocution while crossing car tracks in N. Main-st., is the assertion made by Mayor F. A. Burkhardt, who states that the rails of the Ohio Electric between Wayne-st and the square constitute a menace, because they are not properly grounded or bonded.

"When cars pass, stray current is transmitted to the rails," the mayor said. "Any person crossing the track in the wake of a car might easily step on the rail in such a manner that a circuit would be created by their body. The least injury they could incur would be a severe shock and it would not be impossible that some person could be electrocuted in this fashion."

Instances have been known where people have been electrocuted in a bath tub, by a circuit created when an electric light was turned on.

STRAY CURRENT A MENACE

A common light wire carries but 108 volts. Trolley wires used for street cars carry more than 2,000 volts. Criminals who die in the chair are killed by 1,700 volts coursing thru their bodies. An equally large voltage is often transmitted to the rails by a passing car, officials say.

That rails are charged by stray currents of juice transmitted from passing street cars is a well known fact, the mayor said.

A common sight in Main-st is a pyrotechnic display caused by stray current hitting at the joint of two rails. A light as brilliant as that of an arc lamp is created. Engineers state that the light is created on the same principle as an arc light, the joint in the rails forming the contact.

DANGER EXISTS

Mayor Burkhardt and City Engineer Vaughn Miller state that while they know of no instance where persons have sustained a shock here, it can easily occur. Their opinion is corroborated by G. H. Gamper, an electrical expert, who prepared estimates for the boulevard lighting system.

Because the rails in N. Main-st are of lighter construction than elsewhere in the city, the ground wires and wires bonding the rails have been broken. Mayor Burkhardt states that the heaviest traffic in the city passes over this portion of the tracks where the rails are least calculated to carry it. He hopes to see the situation remedied when the street is repaved. At that time the Ohio Electric will have the opportunity to lay new steel and ground and bond the rails properly.

PRODUCES ELECTROLYSIS

Stray current is also raising havoc with gas and water mains under the street, City Engineer Miller says. Much of the leakage of water mains is attributed by Miller to the action of electricity, and gas officials state that relaying of a portion of their lines in Main-st is being contemplated.

The juice has to go some place and it passes thru the ground to the pipe lines. It flows along the iron surface, eating the metal and burning the joints. Engineers differ on just the exact action. Electricity does so many unaccountable things, they state, that it is hard to keep posted on its peculiarities, unless one is an expert.

ADRIAN GROVE IS BEATEN, ROBBED

Bluffton Man Left Unconscious—Lost Watch and $28

BLOFFTON.—(Special).—Clare Stetter and Peter Schifferly, on their way home here Monday night shortly after 11 o'clock, found Adrian Grove, old field worker, lying unconscious, having been beaten up and robbed by highwaymen.

A gold watch, an heirloom and $28 in money was taken from Grove after he had been assaulted by two men, who were hidden back of a small building. Grove was required to pass on his way home from the Western Ohio depot, having returned here from Findlay on the last car.

After regaining consciousness Grove stated that one of the men who attacked him was about 35 years old, heavy set and was dressed in black. The other was about 21 and wore overalls. Marshal Henderson and aides made a thorough search for the men, but without success.

Grove was not seriously injured, altho badly bruised from the beating he received.

EDISON CRITICISED BY OHIO STATE OFFICIALS

COLUMBUS.—Thomas A. Edison, who recently declared he found college men to be ignorant, was severely criticized for his view by Ohio State University officials today.

"We all know so little that it does not behoove any man to point out another and say: 'He is ignorant,'" Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State, said.

"A man's knowledge of electricity cannot be judged by his mastery of Sanskrit. The field of learning is so large that one man can hardly master one branch of it, but it is known that the college trained man can quickly adapt himself to a situation."

GERMANS SURRENDER AS PLAN TO DEFEAT FRANCE

Teutons Now Believe Paris Only Wants Invasion—Factions Race for Acceptance of Allied Terms—Move Is Led By Bernstorff

BERLIN.—(By Associated Press)—Acceptance of the allied ultimatum relative to reparations was expected in the Reichstag here today when that body convened. The Centrists and the Majority Socialists, as a result of their conferences yesterday, were believed to have definitely aligned themselves in favor of yielding to the entente demands, and while the Democratic and German People's parties held a long session last night, debating the matter, it was felt that opposition to the allied terms was rapidly dwindling.

The People's party, headed by Dr. Gustav Stresemann, was reported last night to have become resigned to the inevitable, and it was said it would join the Majority Socialists, in order to antagonize the party making up the government coalition. Yesterday's events appeared to show that the situation had reached a point of no return, and that the various parties for first place in the assembling councils.

CHATTER PARTY YIELDS
The Majority Socialists adopted a resolution yesterday, pledging their support to every sincere effort to carry out the terms presented at London, in view of the military coercion and violence with which Germany is threatened. The resolution declared acceptance of the ultimatum would fail of its real purpose if that act did not make an unequivocal declaration that she was prepared to disarm and disband her civilian guards by June 30. The Center party yielded to arguments presented by Dr. Wilhelm Gaver, German ambassador to Paris, and would, it was believed, give an undivided support to a resolution expressing Germany's acceptance of the entente demands.

The note sent to Berlin by Premier Briand, of France, in which Germany was informed that the sending of government troops into Upper Silesia would be considered by France as a violation of the Versailles treaty, had an influence in bringing about a decision on the part of several deputies to join the elements ready to accept the allied ultimatum.

VIEW OF GERMAN
The French premier's communication was generally viewed here as betraying an over-zealous desire to stimulate among reichstag parties opposition to signing the entente terms. Leading Democratic deputies declared yesterday that acceptance of the ultimatum would be the most effective way of counteracting French aspirations, and contended that a sincere effort on the part of Germany to carry out the conditions of the ultimatum would strengthen her case in the United States and England. Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, was one of the most prominent Democratic deputies to champion acceptance, a course he has persistently advocated in party conferences and in public speeches.

There is a probability that the retiring Feilerbach cabinet, which is at present functioning only as an acting ministry, may accept official approval of the ultimatum for Germany. Definite decision has not as yet been reached, but there is considerable sentiment in favor of such procedure among members of the present coalition parties, who believe it would provide an expedient way out of the present crisis. They declare it would not encumber the incoming ministry with what is viewed as an odious and thankless job.

BROWN IS NAMED

Harding Picks Toledo Man For Government Reorganization

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press).—Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, has been appointed by President Harding as his personal representative on the commission which is reorganizing the executive branch of the government.

Mr. Brown, long a personal friend of the president and who acted as his floor manager at the Chicago convention last year, probably will be chosen as chairman of the reorganization commission, the other members of which are senators and representatives.

A supporter of Theodore Roosevelt in 1921, Mr. Brown has taken an active part in Republican politics in Ohio. Last year he was a candidate for United States senator and was defeated by Senator Frank B. Willis.

HIRING EXPERTS

Lima's "paper government" is declared to be reaching a serious stage. Thousands of dollars are being spent for "paper" plans and specifications, supervision of improvements by experts, and special experts in other lines.

The most serious turn in this line just now is the decision to postpone the work on the sewage disposal plant, which has been ordered by the state department of health repeatedly and which is necessary to complete the big sewage system under way and make it of use to the city.

This decision has been made, it is said, because of the new law regulating bonds and the desire of the city government to have plans drawn for sewers which will not be built for years to come.

The council has authorized the letting of a contract to experts which will cost $25,000 for a general sewer system which will come in later years, but which is out of the question at present. An ordinance providing for the letting of this contract has been passed.

If this contract is let it will mean that the next administration, supposed to be founded on sound business principles, will have handed to it paper which cost the city $50,000 to have experts prepare and which the new administration may not want. These will be the plans for the sewage disposal and intercepting sewers and those for the general sewer plan.

In addition to this cost for plans and specifications, which may be out of date by the time the city is ready to start work, an added expense of $150,000 will be incurred in the hiring of experts to carry out the supervision,

if the present plan of hiring an outside expert for every job is carried out. This amount is estimated on the basis of present work—five percent of the cost of construction.

In another column of this page the seriousness of the hiring of experts, while the city is maintaining an engineering department, may be seen. The cost for recent improvement work, none of which is completed, is shown to be more than $350,000. This does not include the minor items, of which there are many, and which would run the amount up to near the $400,000 mark.

Council has made possible the awarding of the contract for the general sewers, which will be improvements to be made long after the present administration has passed out of existence, by the passage of an ordinance. It has not yet been let by Service Director McClain.

U. S. TAX BILL IS $3,500,000,000

WASHINGTON.—(By United Press).—America's annual tax bill will be fixed by congress at $3,500,000,000, it plus of leading members of the house ways and means committee go thru.

They would reduce the per-capita taxation to $30 for every man, woman and child in the country, or $3,000,000,000, but with continued larger appropriations, they admit it is doubtful if it can be done.

The composite congressional mind after months of uncertainty seems to be gradually reaching the conclusion as to what taxes shall be imposed on the American people during the next few years.

It now appears certain that no sales tax will be enacted at this session, according to several leaders. Tax changes will be along the following lines:

1—Excess profits, now one of the big sources of revenue.

2—Soda water, ice cream and some of the more "obnoxious" consumption levies.

3—Transportation taxes.

Some uncertainty exists as to whether the theater admission taxes will be repealed.

The new tax bill in general will follow these lines:

1—Reduced surtaxes on higher incomes to the maximum percentage will not be more than 40 per cent.

2—Possible lowering of the normal income tax rate from four to three per cent, altho this has some opposition.

3—Increased flat corporation income tax from 10 to 15 per cent with the imposition of a levy of 15 per cent of undistributed profits of corporations, to make up for the loss caused by repeal of the excess profits tax. It is believed this would tend to prevent issuance of stock dividends, which have been held untaxable.

4—Increased tobacco taxes from 50 to 100.

5—Taxes of $6.40 a gallon on all liquors withdrawn from bond compared with the present rate of $3.59 and $2.20.

Some members have proposed increased levies on automobiles and a federal license for all cars, but there is strong opposition to this.

Taxes on estates, insurance, lodge and club dues, child labor products and the so-called stamp taxes, as applied to various legal documents and business papers, probably will remain the same.

FOUR DIE IN FIRE

Massachusetts Brothers Burned to Death in Home

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(By Associated Press).—Four brothers were burned to death in a fire here early today, which partly destroyed their home.

Starting near the front entrance of the house, the flames spread rapidly and blocked the only exit from the rooms occupied by the youths, who were found dead when reached by firemen.

They are Lester, 21, Ernest, 19, Warren, 11, and Lester Tremblay, 12, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Tremblay. The cause of the fire was unknown.

Other occupants of the house, including the parents and a brother and a sister, were rescued.

PEDESTRIANS IN DANGER OF ELECTROCUTION

Death Faced Daily By Lima People Who Cross Car Tracks In N. Main-st., According to Mayor Burkhardt and City Engineer

That pedestrians in Lima daily face electrocution while crossing car tracks in N. Main-st., is the assertion made by Mayor F. A. Burkhardt, who states that the rails of the Ohio Electric between Wayne-st and the square constitute a menace, because they are not properly grounded or bonded.

"When cars pass, stray current is transmitted to the rails," the mayor said. "Any person crossing the track in the wake of a car might easily step on the rail in such a manner that a circuit would be created by their body. The least injury they could incur would be a severe shock and it would not be impossible that some person could be electrocuted in this fashion."

Instances have been known where people have been electrocuted in a bath tub, by a circuit created when an electric light was turned on.

A common light wire carries but 108 volts. Trolley wires used for street cars carry more than 2,000 volts. Criminals who die in the chair are killed by 3,700 volts coursing thru their bodies. An equally large voltage is often transmitted to the rails by a passing car, officials say.

That rails are charged by stray currents of juice transmitted from passing street cars is a well known fact, the mayor said.

A common light in Main-st. is a pyrotechnic display caused by stray current running at the point of two trolley wires. A light as brilliant as that of an arc lamp is created. Engineers state that the light is created on the same principle as an arc light, the point in the rails forming the contact.

DANGER EXISTS

Mayor Burkhardt and City Engineer Vaughn Miller state that while they know of no instance where a person has sustained a shock here, it can easily occur. Their opinion is corroborated by G. H. Gamper, an electrical expert, who prepared estimates for the boulevard lighting car.

After regarding consciousness, Mayor Burkhardt stated that one of the men who attacked him was about 25 years old, heavy set and was dressed in black. The other was about 21 and wore overalls. Marshal Hanson Good and alderman made a thorough search for the men, but without success.

Grove was not seriously injured, altho badly bruised from the beating he received.

COLUMBUS.—Thomas A. Edison, who recently declared he found college men to be ignorant, was severely criticized for his view by Ohio State University officials today.

"We all know so little that it does not behoove any man to point out another and say: 'He is ignorant,'" Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State, said.

"A man's knowledge of electricity cannot be judged by his mastery of Sanskrit. The field of learning is so large that one man can hardly master one branch of it, but it is known that the college trained man can quickly adapt himself to a situation."

ADRIAN GROVE IS BEATEN, ROBBED

Bluffton Man Left Unconscious—Lost Watch and $28

BLUFFTON.—(Special).—Clarence Stetler and Peter Schifferly, on their way home here Monday night shortly after 11 o'clock, found Adrian Grove, oil field worker, lying unconscious, having been beaten up and robbed by highwaymen.

A gold watch, an heirloom and $28 in money was taken from Grove after he had been assaulted by two men, who were hidden back of a small building. Grove was required to pass on his way home from the Western Ohio depot, having returned here from Findlay on the last train for the boulevard lighting car.

After regarding consciousness, Mayor Burkhardt stated that one of the men who attacked him was about 25 years old, heavy set and was dressed in black. The other was about 21 and wore overalls. Marshal Hanson Good and alderman made a thorough search for the men, but without success.

Grove was not seriously injured, altho badly bruised from the beating he received.

AMERICAS' PLEA BRINGS RELIEF

Queen of Greece Orders 20,000 Refugees Aided

U. S. RED CROSS STARTS MOVE

Doctors and Nurses From States Help in Work

SALONIKI — (By Associated Press) — Queen Sophie, of Greece, head of the Greek Red Cross, recently summoned members of the Greek cabinet to the palace and demanded that the government take steps to prevent the distress of 20,000 Greek refugees from the Caucasus, now in barracks on the hills of Kalamaria, near Saloniki, from becoming a national disgrace.

In consequence of her action 1,000,000 drachmae (equivalent to about $75,000 at present rates of exchange) were appropriated for the benefit of the refugees and 15 additional physicians were sent to Saloniki.

DOCTORS SENT — The miserable condition of the refugees had been reported to the Queen by Colonel Olds, the American Red Cross Commissioner for Europe, who inspected their camp. Queen Sophie then sent Dr. Theophanos Aggelopoulos, an eminent sanitary expert, as her personal representative to take charge of the camp. He brought a corps of ten physicians. Until that time only one physician had administered to the thousands ill among the refugees. There had been no one to look after sanitation. The American Red Cross has sent to Saloniki Colonel Henry A. Shaw, of the United States Army Medical Corps, with a party of physicians and nurses to aid the Greek government in the care of the refugees. Colonel Shaw plans to gather 1,000 of the orphans in old French barracks, several miles from the present camp where the children will be given medical attention while food will be furnished by the Greek government. The expenses of this work will be borne by the government.

BOSTON NURSES HEADS — Miss Lillian Spellman, a Boston nurse, is conducting a Red Cross dispensary at the camp where she distributes cans of milk and soon will distribute clothing to the small children.

Many of the refugees were lured by the promise of rich lands in Macedonia but the majority fled from the Caucasus before the advances of the Bolsheviks and the Turkish Nationals under Kemal Pasha.

The 20,000 are huddled together in barracks which were not intended to hold half that number. A Red Cross inspector who visited the camp reports that disease such as typhus, dysentery and influenza is prevalent and that more than 1,000 of the refugees died within a month.

The Greek Governor, General Zavitsanos, is in despair for he expects 15,000 additional refugees to arrive soon and says there are more than 50,000 others trying to reach Greece. The fund appropriated by the Greek government to feed, clothe and provide medical attention will be exhausted within a month, say the relief agents.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and hemorrhoids to become normal, but also reduces other, enlarged glands and veins. Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded. It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directed in the advertisement and improvement will be noticed at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. One dose often helps commence to enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves—Nuxated Iron is organic iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach. It is so prepared that it will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. It is ready for almost immediate assimilation by the blood with some physicians claim metallic iron which people usually take is not absorbed at all. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: Take one or two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all druggists.—Adv.

Have You Piles?

Then You Have Something to Learn.

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can easily be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause. Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the vessels. Dr. J. S. Leonard was first to find the remedy. His prescription is HEM-LEAD, a tablet medicine taken internally, that is now sold by druggists generally. Dr. Leonard tried it in the cases with the marvelous record of 100 per cent and then decided it could be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-LEAD from Thompson's Drug Store today. It has given safety and lasting relief to thousands of people, and should be the same for you—it seldom fails.—Adv.

Head Blames Government For Bad Conditions

GIVES PROGRAM FOR BOOST

Testifies Before Congress Transportation Probers

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — "The trouble with the railroads is excessive operating expenses, 'an abnormal amount' of which is the cost of labor, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific railroad, declared today before the senate interstate commerce committee. He was the first witness at the opening of the congressional investigation into the whole transportation situation.

REMEDIES OFFERED. Mr. Kruttschnitt suggested five "remedies" which he said were "easily applied and productive of economies."

They are: "Stop the use for common carrier purposes of high wages built with public money without adequate tolls and proper regulations; improve at public expense cars themselves as to interest on cost and maintenance by regulating the common carrier traffic on them and by imposing adequate tolls."

"Keep the United States government out of the business of operating steamships and stop the lavish expenditure of public money in providing coastwise ocean transportation in competition with transcontinental railroads."

"Toll for the use of the Panama canal should be sufficient to pay interest on its cost, operating expense and maintenance."

"Do not deprive transcontinental carriers of coast to coast traffic by inflexibly enforcing a strict long and short haul clause."

RATES NOT BLAMED. Mr. Kruttschnitt read a prepared statement, which opened with the assertion that freight rates were not responsible for business depression.

"Widespread propaganda is being carried on to arouse public sentiment against existing freight rates," he said.

"The fact is that even since the rates have been advanced the cost of transporting commodities is far less than the toll taken by the commission merchant and the retailer."

The witness told the committee that the general depletion and fall of prices had caused stagnation of business.

To support his argument that railroad rates were not responsible, he said that notwithstanding the lowest ocean freight rates in history millions of tons of shipping here and abroad were losing money because there was such a small demand for goods.

"The percentage of freight charges to the average value of commodities shipped in the early part of 1921," he added, "is only two-tenths of one cent greater than in 1914."

The trouble with our railroads has been intensified by the results of 26 months of an experiment in government ownership and operation. The word 'ownership' is used advisedly as the federal railroad administration treated the railroads as if they were absolutely owned by the government and turned them back to their owners helplessly bound in improvident agreements in the making of which their owners had no voice.

"The government having strangled the railroads into something like bankruptcy," he concluded, "at last removed its hands and permitted a sudden increase in rates that should have been gradual and started at least twelve years ago. We should bear in mind and circulate widely the president's epigram 'more business in government and less government in business.'"

SENTENCED TO PRISON. TORONTO — John Doughty, former secretary of Ambrose Small, theatrical magnate, was today sentenced to six years in Kingston penitentiary for the theft of $165,000 in victory bonds, the property of Small. It is likely that the charge of conspiracy to kidnap Small also laid against Doughty, will be dropped by the crown.

JOHN J. McNAMARA LEAVES PRISON

Los Angeles Dynamiter Serves 10 Years in San Quentin

BROTHER IS IN FOR LIFE

Two Admitted Plot to Blow up Newspaper

SAN QUENTIN, Calif.—(By Associated Press)—No plans for the arrest of John J. McNamara, Los Angeles dynamiter, when he left San Quentin prison today, at expiration of his 15 year sentence, were known to prison officials. McNamara, who pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiring to blow up the Lewellyn Iron Works, earned the maximum legal reduction of sentence for conduct so that he actually served less than ten years.

Friends arranged a reception for McNamara at the prison gate, and he was invited to speak tonight at a meeting of a local of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers in San Francisco. He was formerly international secretary of that craft.

BROTHER IN MANS.
James H. McNamara, brother and cell mate of the man whose sentence expired today, remained in the prison. He is serving a life sentence, having pleaded guilty to a murder charge in connection with the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times building by an explosion in 1910.

The state alleged the McNamaras conspired with others to blow up the Times building, and that the plot was carried out by James McNamara planting a dynamite bomb in the rear of the structure. Twenty employees of the Times were killed in the destruction of the building.

It was alleged the motive for the crime was that the Times had taken the side of the Lewellyn Iron Works during a strike of structural iron workers there, and that the accused were also concerned in an attempt to blow up the Lewellyn plant.

TAKEN IN EAST.
The McNamaras were arrested in the east after Otto E. McManis, an alleged accomplice, made a confession. McManis was the principal witness at the trial, which came to a dramatic end when the accused men offered to make pleas of guilty if assured they would escape death penalty.

Two other alleged accomplices were arrested and received prison sentences in California. Thirty-nine other persons who had been associated with the McNamaras in Indiana, were convicted of conspiring to transport dynamite, in the Federal court at Indianapolis. These cases followed statements by McManis to the effect that there had been a country-wide dynamiting of bridges and other structures on which non-union workers had been employed.

Remaining indictments against John McNamara in Los Angeles have been outlawed, but it was said here he might possibly have to face charges in Indianapolis upon his release.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the complicated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments, and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He has since saved his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. # SILESIAN CITY IS TAKEN BY POLES

Germans Are Driven Out by Insurgent Forces

TOWN'S POPULATION FLEES

Invaders Open Fire on French Control Officers

OPPELN, Upper Silesia — (By Associated Press) — Insurgent Polish forces have crossed the Oder and captured the town of Kosel, after hard fighting.

The population is fleeing in panic. The French control officer took refuge in the Kosel barracks, and the Poles opened fire on him there, according to inter-allied commission reports.

Several casualties are reported to have occurred at the Kransitz railway station when the Poles drove out the Germans after three days' continuous fighting.

GERMANS CROSS RIVER
RATIBOR, Upper Silesia — German patrols crossed the Oder river into Upper Silesia just before dawn yesterday morning and captured six Poles, one of whom was suspected of killing a number of Germans.

The leader of the patrol, a civilian 33 years of age, declared the Poles had admitted the killings. When asked what he was going to do about it, the patrol leader said:

"He was taken ten paces away, and two men were detailed to attend to him—he disappeared, but probably could be found floating down the Oder."

Italian troops here declare they have lost severely in recent fighting against the Poles, and appear to be greatly incensed. They are declared to have shown unkindness toward Polish prisoners, who are generally being handed over to them by their German captors. Ammunition has been received here from Breslau and from Oppeln, and German citizens are being armed and told to defend themselves.

SWITCHMEN'S UNION MAY ACCEPT WAGE CUT

TOLEDO — The second session of the Switchmen's Union of North America, now in its annual convention here, opened today with a discussion of the wage issue. Many of the delegates were in opposition to accepting any wage reduction, while the leaders claimed to be willing to abide by the decision of the railway labor board.

One of the more conservative of the latter group was S. E. Heberling, of Buffalo, international president of the union, who reiterated his statement of yesterday that the labor board should give its decision before any action is taken against an imminent reduction in pay.

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

CHICAGO — (By United Press) — Wild-eyed rats of the country have gone thru the laundry of conservatism and have come out a faded pink.

In other words, a radical has what he used to be.

A visit to the annual convention of the Industrial Workers of the World here today demonstrated that conclusively.

For instance, none of the 45 delegates carried T. N. T. bombs on their hips. Also there were no printing presses turning out seditious literature by the ton. No long whiskered gentlemen, speaking in broken English, were numbered among the delegates. All the delegates talked the king's English and talked it mildly. Advocates of the overthrow of the government were not present. Delegates advocated the acquisition of additional members and little else.

The aim of the I. W. of W. is to organize every man, woman and child into one union, just as of late numerous separate unions are now existing. Roy Brown acting secretary-treasurer.

TOWNS WIPED OUT
MAXVILLE, Ont. — Maxville, a town of 1,000 population, located 40 miles from Ottawa, was practically wiped out by fire which originated in a Chinese laundry when the Chinese proprietor, a Christian, hurried out of his shop to attend evening worship. He left an overheated iron on a shirt.

Introducing Our New Senators

OVINGTON F. WELLER

(Republican)

Former Highway Commissioner, Now U. S. Senator From Maryland, Succeeding Mr. Smith

MR. READER:

Meet a friend of the farmers, also an urban dweller, United States Senator Ovington F. Weller, who replaces John Walter Smith, veteran Democratic leader of Maryland.

Senator Weller's home is in Baltimore, but his urban affiliations do not prevent him from taking a keen interest in agricultural requirements. One of his "hobbies" is "good roads," and as Highway Commissioner of Maryland credit was given him for building up the present system of excellent highways in that state. He is essentially a friend of the farmer and favors co-operative marketing as one solution of the agrarian problems confronting the country.

BODY OF HERO IS NEARING HOME

Joseph Masterpole, Killed Overseas, to be Buried Here

Mrs. Claudia Masterpole, 624 W. Wayne, had not up to noon Tuesday, received word from the war department of the exact time of arrival of the body of her husband, Joseph Masterpole, killed overseas during the world war.

The body arrived in New York Monday with nearly 200 others on the same vessel. Among the list is Dewey H. Shaner, Wayne shield, and Arthur B. Staley, Van Wert.

The body of Masterpole will be taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adriaan Masterpole, 767 S. McCalister, upon arrival here. Besides the widow and parents, he is survived by two brothers, August and Henry Masterpole, who also served in the war. Henry is now in government service. Alfred and August Masterpole and the Misses Ida and Margaret Masterpole, reside at the family home.

American Legion will perform their ritualistic burial rites over the body of their deceased comrade. Masterpole was also a member of the Lima Lodge of Moose and of the American Insurance union. The body will be laid to rest in Woodlawn.

Prior to being sent overseas, Masterpole was a boxing instructor in military camps and had attained a local reputation as a pugilist. He was killed on November 3, 1918, two weeks before the armistice was signed, on the morning of the day his outfit was to have been relieved. He had been asleep in a dug-out in the trench and is supposed to have been partially awake when he arose, mounted the firing step and raised his hands above his head as he yawned.

A bullet from the gun of a German sniper penetrated his head, between the eyes.

SENTENCED FOR NON-SUPPORT.
VAN WERT — Clyde H. Jackson, colored, was sentenced to from one to three years in the penitentiary for non-support of his minor children.

AID PLANNED FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

Red Cross Compiling Lists of Names of Soldiers

Allen county ex-service men who are in need of hospitalization are to be listed by the government thru agency of the American Red Cross, with the view, it is believed, of caring for their cases.

"We have received orders from Starr Cadwallader, manager of the Lake division, to find at once the number of service men sick or disabled who are entitled to treatment," Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson, Home service secretary stated Tuesday. "Names of all men, not in hospitals are to be secured, who are not being aided by the Red Cross or other agencies."

That the government is contemplating action regarding condition of sick and disabled men is evident, as the communication requests that names be secured immediately and sent in prior to May 11. The names are to be divided into three classifications, as follows: Service men who are being aided by Red Cross or other agencies; those who are receiving assistance and those in the first two classes who refuse aid.

The Red Cross has a fairly comprehensive list of war veterans, but there are a number in the county whose names may not be in the list. For this reason Mrs. Jackson is anxious to have such men, or their relatives send their names to her office at once.

MIAMI PRESIDENT OFFERS TO QUIT

Takes Blame For Student Attack on Dean Young

NOT THE MAN, THEY SAY

Pupils Still Clamor for Professor's Resignation

OXFORD, Ohio — (By United Press) — Dr. Arches Everett Young, professor of mathematics and dean of the junior Liberal Arts College at Miami University, will appear in chapel today to answer the demand of the student body for his resignation.

One thousand students, constituting the student forum, adopted resolutions calling for immediate resignation of Dr. Young and named a committee of 15 to present the resolutions to him.

After reading the charges Young is reported to have said to E. H. Walster, president of the student forum, and chairman of the committee, "If it is the expression of sentiment of the student body that I resign, I will leave the campus and never return."

BLAME SHIFTED
When the committee called on Raymond M. Hughes, president, to explain their action, Dr. Hughes said:

"I think you are after the wrong man. I am responsible for many of the orders of which you complain. It was I who assigned him to the task of resigning last fall, but my resignation was not accepted."

The committee told Dr. Hughes he was not the man that they were after and they gave him until Thursday at 4 p. m. to take action.

Hughes said he has no authority to accept the resignation of Young, if tendered, but that the matter would have to come before the directors.

GRADUATES SUMMED UP
Graduates covering a period of four years, are summed up in the resolutions presented to Young. The storm broke when one young man recently was expelled from school because he had married. Two others were expelled for technical gym class violations.

Among the specific charges against Dr. Young in reference to students is the case of William Koehler, son of John C. Koehler, La Salle Building, Cincinnati, Ohio, who was expelled from school for gym class when it was alleged he had proof of his presence in the gym class at the time he was given his third "cut" mark.

The students demand reinstatement of Koehler and two students.

MOTOR COP GETTING RESULTS IN HIS WAR ON AUTO SPEEDSTERS

"Speeding on W. Market-st. has about become a thing of the past," Rolla Glover, night speed cop, said Monday night after rounding up 24 speeders over the week-end.

"Motorists by this time seem aware of the danger they are in when they speed 'er up on W. Market-st. and S. Cole-st."

"I aim to keep after them on these thoroughfares and at the same time will endeavor to suppress the fast driving epidemic that seems to strike drivers as soon as they hit the N. West-st. road."

"Speeders on the Allentown-rd are more careful now, since we have patrolled that route for the past several weeks," Glover continued.

"I have been assigned to catch speeders and traffic law violators and am doing my utmost to do it. As a rule, speeders are on the lookout for the motor cop. This makes it necessary for me to hide in alleys and dark streets, to await the reckless drivers."

"I usually turn out the lights on my motorcycle, but leave the engine run. When a motorist whizzes by, I sling my machine into first speed and am off in a second."

"Sometimes I have to chase them clear out into the country, while others slow down on hearing me trailing them."

"Most of them offer excuses and others, especially young men who are riding with girls, try to get cute over it and start an argument."

"I tell them to save the story for the judge. They usually do," he concluded.

Glover was appointed to the police department about a month ago. Since that time he has made over 50 arrests, and has aided in much other police activity.

SUGGESTIONS TO AUTOISTS

ALTHO the weather conditions of the past few weeks haven't indicated it altogether summer is near at hand, when thoughts turn to outdoor tasks. There has been more or less talk since early spring began about the repair of roads in Allen-co.

In the enthusiasm that was born of prospects of motoring pleasures during the seasonable months, a "good roads day" was planned. Rain prevented carrying into execution the idea. Another day was appointed. Again rain came, but in part the plans were applied. Lack of money for the purchase of material and the employment of men for highway improvement work has had its effect in the continuance of chuck holes in roads that force motorists to thread their way carefully in many places and work consequent delay for those making inter-county trips.

The Lima Automobile club members might, with credit to themselves and for the good of the highways, adopt the plan that has come into being in Tennessee, where an automobile club named a "fill a hole day." Upon that day every automobilist in that part of the state is expected to take stone and repair at least one break in the macadam. Road commissioners think so much of the idea that they have piled crushed stone along the highways at convenient places.

This scheme is worthy of wider adoption, it would seem, not only because it serves to improve the roads, but also because it brings home to motorists that they have individual responsibilities toward public works. In China, muledrivers make temporary repairs in roadbeds, for their own convenience and then go back and tear out the work after they have made safe passage. That is an indication that they feel no personal responsibility in keeping roads in good condition.

Americans haven't fallen into a bad habit to that extent, but "fill a hole days" ought to come frequently, to do away with indifference to the general welfare and as an expression of appreciation of good roads. Those who help to repair highways will be more interested in protecting them than those who do not.

SILENCING JINGOES

THERE is no more commendable occupation than that of muzzling war yelpers; silencing jingoes who apparently take supreme delight in predicting a state of war between the United States and some other nation of the earth, notably Japan.

For a long period of time following the Spanish-American war, one Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson was the chosen president of the jingo clan. To have believed him, one must needs have felt that we were in imminent danger of being attacked by the Japs. If the propaganda spread by this fiery southerner had been accepted as true by everyone, the Pacific coast would have been depopulated, in fear of Japanese attack and invasion.

Twenty-three years have passed and still we are at peace with Japan. There have been diplomatic wars and these will continue to prevail, but the danger of bloody war is about as far in the future now as it always has been. Relations between the United States and Japan have never been estranged in the true meaning of the word, nor is any such estrangement likely. An end ought to be put to jingo talk in both countries.

The promotion of friendly relations between the two countries has been the object of every administration since Hobson began to talk. The foreign office of Japan denies in the most emphatic terms the statement made that South Pacific islands are being fortified. That possession of the little island of Yap should precipitate a war is unthinkable. All publicists agree that there is no question now pending between the United States and Japan which cannot be settled amicably, without recourse to war and bloodshed.

The spirit of mischief that prompts magnifying of every petty dispute into a casus belli is but a system of a disordered brain. We are fed up on sensation to such an extent that nothing but a big jolt produces any effect. However, breeding war sensations is playing with fire and the practice should be brought to an end.

RECALLING ST. HELENA

HAD the one hundredth anniversary of the death of Napoleon Bonaparte arrived ten years ago, it would then have been considered a more significant event than it does today.

Ten years ago the aftermath of the Napoleonic era was still an active ferment in affairs of Europe and to some extent of the remainder of the world. The career of the little Corsican still stood out as the last preceding major military and political cataclysm in the history of the white race. The greatest late reapportionment had been brought on by Bonaparte.

The world war has intervened and tho it produced no man of the gigantic genius of Napoleon I, it has created a rampart between our times and his, which obscures the latter and makes it recede immeasurably more than mere passage of years would do. We are in a new age and the things that happened prior to 1914, politically, seem obsolete.

Upheavals of the 19th and 20th centuries caused a fading away in the distance of the Napoleonic era. Some of Bonaparte's biggest battles were mere skirmishes compared with the battles of the great war. The army that marched into Russia to destruction was a pitiful handful compared with the force over which Foch had command. The artillery used by the emperor of the French with effect and with which he defeated enemy after enemy was primitive compared with that which roared along the Hindenburg line. And then too, there was as much difference between the material at the command of Napoleon and that which was afforded Foch, as between that available to Napoleon and Julius Caesar.

The accomplishments of the Little Corporal were as great in their day, with the men and material at his command, as were the accomplishments in the world war of the recent past. He used the tools at hand with skill. It is doubtful if anyone since has done so much.

IN HONOR OF HORACE MANN

ANTIOCH College at Yellow Springs was not founded by Horace Mann, as many persons have believed, but it is a fact that he was its first president, serving in that capacity for seven years, from 1852 to 1859. The general body of the Christian church founded the college by official decree in 1850.

The name of Horace Mann, after whom a Lima school was named, and whose anniversary was observed locally last week, is closely linked with the early development of the Yellow Springs institution and it has been easy to fall into the error of believing that he founded the school. The 125th anniversary of this great educator and philosopher was celebrated fittingly at Antioch. Many distinguished men and women gathered for the event.

It was a real memorial and will serve to keep alive the spirit of the distinguished American who blazed trails along educational lines. The name of Horace Mann will forever be identified with Antioch and his work in its behalf will be remembered.

MISS LIMA: The mayor's order to the police to arrest citizens for violating the law by spitting on the sidewalk hasn't caused any great rush of prisoners at the bar, but the walks are still being splattered with spittle.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE ROBIN

Oh, yesterday a robin came a-hopping around my place
And I was at the window with a sad
and gloomy face,
And I was feeling pensive and a-thinking thoughts that come When a fellow's discontented and
the world is looking glum;
So I watched old Mr. Robin as he snagged a worm or two
And skipped around the garden in the way t' robins do.

His eye was bright and shiny and
his head was in the air,
And if his face was wide enough a smile had lingered there.
The breeze was blowing chilly and
the ground seemed mighty bleak,
But the robin wasn't growling that the hard spots hurt his beak,
And the robin wasn't looking that his little feet were cold.
He was happy to be living as his bits of music told.

He was plump and he was chipper,
and thought I while watching him—
Don't you ever get the notion that this fight for life is grim?
Do you ever tell your neighbors
while you're sitting in a tree,
That food is not as plentiful as once it used to be?
Oh, little feathered songster, when the days are cold and long
Do you ever waste a minute wailing As I watched old Mr. Robin at the business of his day.

With nobody near to help him or to pass the food his way,
So myself I think I muttered:
"What's the matter now with me?
If a robin can be happy, why should
I so dismal be?
All my troubles are as nothing to the life he leads out there,
Yet this minute he is singing and I'm knee deep in despair!"

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is a lucky day.
Especially for the morning hours with those who seek favors from others be likely to meet with success.

Under this rule of the stars women should succeed in almost any line of endeavor. Honors will be bestowed on them by several or the more important nations.

There is a prophecy that a woman will be appointed to a position of great influence and significance.

This is an unusually lucky wedding day.
There is an indication that a great disaster will occur in this country, which will call forth great donations of money for relief.

Persons whose birthday this is,
will have a successful year, marked by business prosperity, unless they yield to romantic influences, in which event they are likely to meet with disaster.

Children born today will be industrious and steady, and will be most successful as employees.

RHEUMATISM

A Remarkable Home Treatment
Given by One Who Had It.
In the year of 1921 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-acute Rheumatism I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted can know for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally I found a treatment that cured me completely and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bed-ridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute rheumatism to try the great value of my improved "Rhome Treatment"
for its remarkable healing power.
Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address, and I will send it free to try. After you have used it, and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, One Dollar, but understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Don't that fair? Who suffers any longer from rheumatism? Is this offered

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once,
and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

Sweet and Sour

If perchance you read my Autobiography you may recall that I recommended a single dose of castor oil in the first-aid treatment for infantile acute diarrhea, and a little later a baby specialist jumped on father and father wrote a disclaimer in which he as much as said I had slipped 't at castor oil suggestion thru unbeknownst to him. That is just like my dad—he knows But.

Well, that same children's specialist now comes after father with another protest, this time against our unqualified approval of the liberal allowance of the crudest grade of brown sugar and pure or unmedicated candy in a boy's or a girl's regular diet. And "seeing as how" this specialist who hates all sugar and candy is a very good specialist and representative of a large class of good doctors in his views, dad and I think that it is only fair to quote from his letter—but, mind you, we both feel that children need, can assimilate, and should have a liberal allowance of sugar or simple candies.

"You bid fair to spoil my star act by your misplaced confidence in some so-called authority on physiology who probably knows as much about children and their unlightened parents and their vicious food habits as I know about experimental physiology—which isn't very much.
Let me whisper this in your ear;
if I can persuade a mother withhold from her child not only ALL candies but also ALL sugar of any sort whatsoever, even the 'little' on the morning oatmeal, and to stop anything at all between meals, my troubles with that child's appetite are over, sure as shooting. No, that doesn't destroy my practice, either,
so I cannot even ask for sympathy from your noble soul; for my practice consists in keeping children well, and what is more, if find that mothers pay me for telling them just such things as this.

"So you see you make my job that much harder when you give reluctant grandmothers such ammunition
—they already think I am a fanatic and consider their sons or daughters misguided if they follow my advice regarding their pet grandchildren."

Far be it from father and me to encourage those reluctant grandmothers. A grandmother is all very well to have around the house, but she should realize that grandmothers are made to be seen and not heard.
Father greatly deprecates the cordial disagreement of various members of the medical profession on this sugar question.
In replying to our good friend,
the children's specialist, father and I told him we supposed he'd like to invent some way to extract the sugar from human milk before permitting the baby to take dinner—for more than half the nutriment of human milk is sugar. Of course that was by way of persiflage, yet it must annoy the anti-sweet doctors, to realize that Nature sets such store by this element of food.

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN IN MERITORIOUS FILM

It's "The Miracle of Manhattan" With Thrills Aplenty From Start to Finish

North Bros. Stock Company in Closing Play of Season—
Vera Gordon's Latest

(By ESTHER WAGNER.)
G OOD-looking Elaine Hammerstein in another meritorious film! It's the "Miracle of Manhattan," a story of a society girl who wagers she'll earn her own living for two months. Starts out with her last year's blue serge and $13.00 to cash.

End of the first reel finds her after having lost several jobs, a singer in a cabaret, a gay cabaret where they're not yet heard of prohibition.

Development of the original theme is here put aside to recount an unconventional romance between the girl and a reformed gangster, with a first fight, an attempted stabbing, a murder and a murder trial by way of background.

The first fight occurs between the gangster and another who would like the girl. Then the gangster's former sweetheart tries to stab her.
The gangster saves her by shooting his erstwhile love.

Next, the trial. The girl has suffered a nervous breakdown as a result of the incident and things look up for the hero. But she recovers in time to make a dramatic appearance at the trial and save him.

Elaine Hammerstein plays the chief role. The picture serves to confirm an impression that she's among the three best looking stars on the screen today.

"The Girl of the Sea"

Offering "Girl of the Sea" at the Orpheum theatre, the North Bros.
Stock Co., is presenting the final act of the season, as their engagement here ends Wednesday night.
"Girl of the Sea" is featured by the acting on the part of everyone concerned. The cast is not a large one, numbering but eight performers, yet each and everyone does splendid work. There are two good comedy parts played by Fannie Edwards and Ed. MacMillan. Miss Edwards as Fanny Simonson, the spinster who lived on memories of her "extinct" husband and refused to marry Ben Lock after thirty some proposals, has the best role she has been afforded since her engagement here.
Miss Beve Dainty as Flotsam, who lives in the lighthouse with her father, is pleasingly naive, and Mr.
Richards as the "city chap" gives an excellent interpretation.

Perhaps you'd like the story.
Well, the old keeper of the light house, (played by Mr. Kane) had years ago committed a crime for which he had never atoned and the world would probably have never been let in on the secret had not Joey, who loved Flotsam with a deep, deep love, "spilled" everything, object being to turn the "city chap" against his beloved Flotsam. And it happens that the man whom the old light house keeper had murdered was no other than the city chap's father.

Things look black for Flotsam, her lover gone, her father about to go to prison, but she keeps a stiff upper lip and wins out, as you knew she would. It develops that her father did not murder the man and everything brightens up, with everyone single in the story getting married, even to Miss Simonson, who proposes and is taken up.

The play calls for more or less emotion on the part of everyone concerned. Sometimes the emotion gets you—other times it doesn't. It all depends on how you like it, of course.

"The Greatest Love"

THE most interesting role in the world—that of a mother—falls to Miss Vera Gordon in
"The Greatest Love" and she makes the most of the opportunities atforded her.

"The Greatest Love" is virtually another "Humoresque," not as great nor as extensive, of course, but the producers have borrowed the main idea of the latter, with the result that their production is practically a second edition.

Miss Gordon completely upsets
the theory that it takes beauty,
youth, etc., to make a film actress.
She's not young, nor is she exactly lovely, as the world acknowledges loveliness, but she's a thoroughbred and a wonderful actress.

MISS WAGNER'S UP-TO-DATE VAUDEVILLE AND MOVIE GOSSIP

The story needs no minute description. The Lantinis with their two children, Lorenzo and Francesca, come to America to find fame and fortune. After years of struggle they attain the heights, have servants and a beautiful home, but Mamma Lantini never forgets her early life and delights in returning to visit her neighbors.

During the course of the picture,
a theatrical manager named Sewell,
who had betrayed the daughter,
Francesca, is murdered; circumstantial evidence points to Lorenzo as the slayer; he is convicted, but thru it all his mother believes in his innocence, which of course is later established.

The picture as a whole would not have been much without Miss Gordon. In many places it doesn't ring exactly true and other players, Miss Yvonne Shelton and Hugh Huntley, while good in a way, have not the wherewithal to make the production a success. Miss Gordon, however, with her steady eyes and kindly smile, completely dominates every scene. Even in her darkest hour she faces her fate without emotion but her tearless eyes are sadder than any display of hysterics could ever be, and you're as glad as you can be when her son is freed, her daughter betrothed to the man of her choice and they gather about the Lantini dining table, with Mamma Lantini at the head, Papa Lantini opposite and roast turkey between them.

"The Greatest Love" to my way of thinking is a truly great picture. It is appearing at the Lyric theatre.

MISS CHRISTEN'S DAILY PAGE OF CHAT AND SOCIETY EVENTS

SWEATER COAT IS ACCEPTED THING FOR DRESS WEAR

These women who have hesitated about putting money into one of the season's new silk sweaters need hesitate no more for Dame Fashion has already changed her approval of these garments for dress wear. When one sees a sweater whether a sweater coat or a dress sweater, it was all very well to think, "sweater" but now that the sweater has been elevated to the place of a dress-up garment you can see right out and buy that garment with that has been looking from your favorite shop.

With a sweater like this one, indeed, a silk knit and a fully blouse one has achieved a sports costume with a truly dressy air. This is made on the popular tuxedo lines with collar and cuffs trimmed with a cross pattern in a plain weave. The sweater itself is of a fancy weave and a braided silk with tasseled ends marks the waistline. These silk sweaters come in all wanted summer shades as well as brown and black.

As an informal courtesy to Mrs. M. C. Linneman, California, formerly of this city, Mrs. L. L. Bates welcomed the members of the Women's Bridge club, all intimate friends of the honor guest, at her home on Lakewood-ave, Monday. At the conclusion of a most enjoyable afternoon the hostess served a dainty repast.

Mrs. Charles Clark will be hostess at the next regular meeting.

BEAUTY NOT ALWAYS AN ASSET

NEW YORK.—(Special)—Heart hunger and bodily hunger in a young girl who curd her beauty have brought seventeen-year-old Katherine Zoberlein to incarceration in the Tombs.

Years filled the deep brown eyes and found their way down the pale cheeks of the slender, trembling girl—cheeks soft and cool as Winter roses. The palest pink flecked the almost pure white of her young face. There was no subtle play of light in her dark eyes, nothing in her fair features to beloken evil, nothing in her voice that betrayed the truth. Is it any wonder the guardians of the Tombs have characterized her "the most beautiful girl, the most innocent appearing that ever was confined in this prison?"

In her rich, tremulous, child-like voice she told the story of her love for the man who brought her into such early contact with the life of the underworld.

"I love, but it does not make me happy. I know I am beautiful—men have told me so since I was fourteen. I had rather be ugly. I am here because my love for Michael was so great I could not refuse to do anything he asked of me. He asked me to help him rob people. I do not want to be bad. But I love Michael. He told me to do it. I would have done anything he asked. I think he loved me for myself. Perhaps he did and I did not understand. It seems that almost anyone can touch my heart and make me want to help or please them."

The sweetheart for whom Katherine vows her love is Michael J. Eggle, who was arrested a few days before Katherine was faced by the police. The police say Michael divided to them the whereabouts of Katherine without much pressure from them. Katherine refuses to believe Michael "gave her away." She was found in a Brooklyn rooming house, where she said she and Michael had been living for three months.

HUNGER LED TO ROBBERY Katherine Zoberlein, the innocent-

Katherine Zoberlein, the innocent-appearing, is charged by the police with robbery. She is referred to at headquarters as "the girl bandit." She is accused of having lured Simon Darwo into a doorway, where he was recoiled a minute later by Michael and robbed. "We wanted food," Katherine gave as her reason for the alleged robbery.

"The I loved Michael greatly, I yet dreaded to approach the man. I trembled all over, and I was so afraid and so tired. That night we had walked so far, blocks and blocks, I ahead, and Michael following close enough to protect me," she continued in confessing her story to the police.

"We had nothing to eat that day and but one meal a day for two weeks almost. Michael had no work."

"I told him I was hungry and he said we would find some man who would follow me and then get his money. We had a little glass pistol that was once full of candy, but we filled it with ink to make it look real."

"At last we set out. I could not breathe at first, and I was so cold I felt that I could not go on, but he urged me just a little further, and a little further."

GLANCES HER BEAUTY "I loved him. He told me to do it. I would have done anything he asked."

"I had rather be ugly, and be able to walk from my house to the grocery store on the corner without hearing from every man I pass, 'Hello cutie.' Sweetie how'd you like a ride?"

FAITH STILL CONSTANT "And they tell me it was he who told where I was!"

"Well, I will not believe it until he tells me himself. They found the address in a memorandum book he carried."

"We were living there under the name given in the notebook. It was easy to find me, and I confessed."

"I do not care sometimes what happens. I love, but it does not make me happy."

Fiancee Doesn't Make Financial Headway

Agreement on Division of Expense of Up-keep of Home With Parents Needed

Girl Movie Fan Seeks Addresses of Stars of the Screen

I AM a young business girl and am engaged to a man a few years older than I. I think a great deal of him, but just at present he doesn't seem to be making much progress. He has a very nice position, but still he

YOU should not marry a man just because he has money; neither should you marry a man who hasn't any, especially if you feel that he will not be able to provide for you properly.

If you have a good position and are contented, I would advise you to continue your work and remain single until your fiance has made a better start. Do not feel that he cannot progress. With you as an inspiration he can accomplish much. Do not fail to encourage him and make him see the wonderful opportunities which ambitious young men have before them today. If he works conscientiously, trying to improve his methods and taking an interest in his work, he is bound to advance.

It seems to me that both of you see each other too often. It is a great mistake and besides neither of you get sufficient rest or solitude. Both of you would do much better in business, I am very certain, if you saw each other less, say three or even four times a week would be better than every night. You see, it gives your fiance very little time to be with his men friends and you with your girl friends.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a married woman and get along with my husband nicely. A month ago my husband died. He had stayed with me and I mother and they wanted me to move in with them. I did not want to but to please them, we did. I was to have my house rent free and they were to pay half of the expense. Now since I have moved in they want me to go to rent and keep them. They don't pay anything, as it looks to me. My husband makes fair wages, but not enough to keep all five of us. I had in the world with my mother, but do not know what to do. My father does not work but has enough money with the house and but he has to keep them the rest of their days. If it were needed, I would go to work and keep them, but it is not needed and I do not know what to do. My husband and I are willing to do our part. I would like to ask you what to do.

A month is a very short time in which to complete plans and arrangements for the expenses connected with your present method of living. Your father and mother have, doubtless, been depressed because of the death of their son and probably have not thought of the upkeep of the home, as they should.

Be wise and do not permit them to think that you feel they are not going to fulfill their promise to do their share. The first evening you can all get together, have a sensible, business-like talk with them, making plans for the future and deciding upon a specified amount which each must contribute at a certain time for the purchasing of food and other necessities.

Your parents will be very willing to do their share, I know, and your future will not be as dark as you have pictured it.

WHY LIMA IS POOR

Lima has been struggling with a shortage of finances for the last few years. Retrenchment has been the cry in the various departments and operating expense has been cut to the minimum because of necessity.

Public improvements have come slowly. A few major projects have been started, but none really completed.

A glance at the cost of engineering on the various improvements, including plans, specifications and supervision of construction, ALL OF WHICH WENT TO EXPERTS WHILE THE CITY MAINTAINED AN ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT, throws some light on the matter and shows to some extent why the city is poor.

Here is a list of the expenditures to experts which have been made or will be made under present arrangements:

Plans, specifications and supervision, water-works extension and improvement already paid .....	$ 45,835.06
Plans and supervision, relief trunk sewers now under construction (estimated)...	96,175.00
Intercepting sewers and sewage disposal plant plans and specifications now under way .....	25,000.00
Supervision on intercepting sewers and disposal plant to come later (estimated)...	75,000.00
General sewer plans now under construction for sewers leading off main trunk sewers	25,000.00
Supervision of general sewers (estimated)...	75,000.00
Ohio Electric street railway valuation, now on file with council .....	8,982.50
City's portion gas expert's salary .....	200.00

In addition to this amount there are numerous small amounts paid to experts, such as attorneys, bridge and light experts, and others, not included in the above amounts. The city has employed special counsel on almost all of its fights before the courts and utilities commission during the last three or four years. This item would materially increase the amount the people of Lima are paying for experts.

The city engineering department is maintained and equipped to carry on the engineering work for the city, altho it has no hand in the drawing of plans or supervision of work on the major projects. Experts are ALWAYS hired for this work.

City officials have had pointed out to them that the city would be ahead on expenses if the city department were charged with handling the work, altho it were necessary to hire more engineers.

GERMANS SURRENDER AS PLAN TO DEFEAT FRANCE

Teutons Now Believe Paris Only Wants Invasion—
Factions Race for Acceptance of Allied Terms—
Move Is Led By Bernstorff

BERLIN—(By Associated Press)—Acceptance of the allied ultimatum relative to reparations was expected in the reichstag here today when that body convened. The Centrists and the Majority Socialists, as a result of their conferences yesterday, were believed to have definitely aligned themselves in favor of yielding to the entente demands, and, while the Democratic and German People's parties held a long session last night, debating the matter, it was felt that opposition to the allied terms was rapidly dwindling.

The People's party, headed by Dr. Gumbel, was reported as having last night to have become resigned to the inevitable, and it was said it would join the Majority Socialists, not desiring to antagonize the parties making up the government coalition. Yesterday's events appeared to show that the situation had resolved itself into a competition between the various parties for first place in the assenting councils.

CENTER PARTY YIELDS

The Majority Socialists adopted a resolution yesterday, pledging their support to "every sincere effort to carry out the terms presented at London, in view of the military, economic and political situation which Germany is threatened." The resolution declared acceptance of the ultimatum would fail of its real purpose of declaring that she was prepared to disarm and disband her civilian guards by June 30. The Center party yielded to arguments presented by Dr. Wilhelm Mayer, German ambassador to Paris, and would, it was believed today, give undivided support to a resolution expressing Germany's acceptance of the entente demands.

The note sent to Berlin by Premier Briand, of France, in which Germany was informed that the sending of government troops into Upper Silesia would be considered by France as a violation of the Versailles treaty, had an influence in bringing about a decision on the part of several deputies to join the elements ready to accept the allied ultimatum.

stimate among reichstag parties opposition to signing the entente terms. Leading Democratic deputies declared yesterday that acceptance of the ultimatum would be the most effective way of counteracting French aspirations, and contended that a sincere effort on the part of Germany to carry out the conditions of the ultimatum would strengthen her case in the United States and England. Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, was one of the most prominent Democratic deputies to champion acceptance, a course he has persistently advocated in party conferences and in public speeches.

BROWN IS NAMED

Harding Picks Toledo Man For Government Reorganization

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, has been appointed by President Harding as his personal representative in the commission which is reorganizing the executive branch of the government.

Mr. Brown, long a personal friend of the president and who acted as his floor manager at the Chicago convention last year, probably will be chosen as chairman of the reorganization commission, the other members of which are senators and representatives.

A supporter of Theodore Roosevelt in 1921, Mr. Brown has taken an active part in Republican politics in Ohio. Last year he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator and was defeated by Senator Frank B. Willis.

HIRING EXPERTS

FACTS ABOUT LIMA'S 'PAPER GOVERNMENT'

Lima's "paper government" is declared to be reaching a serious stage. Thousands of dollars are being spent for "paper" plans and specifications, supervision of improvements by experts, and special experts in other lines.

The most serious turn in this line just now is the decision to postpone the work on the sewage disposal plant, which has been ordered by the state department of health repeatedly and which is necessary to complete the big sewage system under way and make it of use to the city.

This decision has been made, it is said, because of the new law regulating bonds and the desire of the city government to have plans drawn for sewers which will not be built for years to come.

The council has authorized the letting of a contract to experts which will cost $25,000 for a general sewer system which will come in later years, but which is out of the question at present. An ordinance providing for the letting of this contract has been passed.

If this contract is let it will mean that the next administration, supposed to be founded on sound business principles, will have handed to it paper which cost the city $50,000 to have experts prepare and which the new administration may not want. These will be the plans for the sewage disposal and intercepting sewers and those for the general sewer plan.

In addition to this cost for plans and specifications, which may be out of date by the time the city is ready to start work, an added expense of $150,000 will be incurred in the hiring of experts to carry out the supervision,

if the present plan of hiring an outside expert for every job is carried out. This amount is estimated on the basis of present work—five percent of the cost of construction.

In another column of this page the seriousness of the hiring of experts, while the city is maintaining an engineering department, may be seen. The cost for recent improvement work, none of which is completed, is shown to be more than $350,000. This does not include the minor items, of which there are many, and which would run the amount up to near the $400,000 mark.

Council has made possible the awarding of the contract for the general sewers, which will be improvements to be made long after the present administration has passed out of existence, by the passage of an ordinance. It has not yet been let by Service Director McClain.

ARTIST COMES TO AID OF FIFI

Woman Arrives in New York from London

MADE STILLMAN PORTRAIT

Brings List of Female Names for Attorneys

NEW YORK — (By United Press)—Zaida Ben Youssef, former society photographer, has arrived in New York from England to offer her assistance to Mrs. James Stillman in the latter's divorce case, it was learned today.

She became acquainted with Stillman, when he called at her New York studio to have his portrait made. Stillman, as well as many other big Wall-st financiers, had several portraits made by Miss Ben Youssef.

RETURN TO U. S.
The artist had closed her New York studio and gone to London when she heard of the divorce suit. She hurried back to the United States. It was reported today she had a list of names of women which she is ready to turn over to Mrs. Stillman's lawyers in order to be of assistance to her.

Some of the bitterness underlying the divorce suit was explained today, when it was learned that Mrs. Stillman when she first broke with her husband, had an agreement with him whereby she would go to Paris and file action of separation. When she was about to sail aboard the Olympic, agents of the banker's attorneys served her with papers showing he had instituted action in this state. Mrs. Stillman, her friends say, denounced that action as a breach of agreement.

LAWYER'S PLANS
Mrs. St. Man's lawyers today are planning another invasion of Canada to question persons who were residing near Grand Anse, location of the Stillman farm, during the summer of 1918, when Mrs. Stillman and Fred Beauvais are alleged to have been much in each other's company. Abel Smith and Norman Fitzsimmons, legal investigators for Mrs. Stillman, planned to start for Canada today. Witnesses have been found, it is said, who will refute the "key hole" testimony of persons who testified for Stillman in the divorce hearings.

PLEADS GUILTY

Ohioan Sentenced to Prison in Murder Case

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press)—The trial of William A. Adams, on a second degree murder charge for killing Policeman Adolph Schneider last September, was suddenly halted in common pleas court today when Adams pleaded guilty to manslaughter. He was sentenced to one to twenty years in the penitentiary by Judge Kinkead, who recommended that he serve the maximum sentence.

Adams is said to be wanted for burglary in Portsmouth, Iron-on, Ashland, Ky., and several other cities in Indiana and Illinois. He has served time at Mansfield and at Jefferson, Ind.

CASE TO BE REVIEWED

COLUMBUS—The supreme court today sustained a motion of the Cincinnati board of education for a reorganization of the case in which William McHenry, a minor, obtained a verdict against the board for personal injuries, said to have resulted from dental work performed by direction of school health authorities. The boy had to have a leg amputated as a result of an infection alleged to have been caused from improper dental treatment.

"RIPPER" PETITIONS TO BE SIGNED HERE

Preparations are being made to circulate petitions in Allen-co to obtain a referendum on Governor Davis' state reorganization "ripper" bill, Lehr Miller, chairman of the Democratic county executive committee stated Tuesday. At a meeting of state and county chairmen held in Columbus last week, this action was decided upon.

Chairman Miller has not been informed concerning the number of names expected from this county on the referendum petitions, as final instructions have not been received. A total of 120,000 signatures are expected to be secured in the state.

PARLEYS TO END STRIKE CEASE

Davis Fails in Attempts to Settle Seamen's Walkout

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press)—Representatives of the Marine Workers' organization left Washington today as a result of the announcement of Secretary Davis that his efforts to arrange a settlement of the wage dispute between the workers and the ship-owners had been "unavailing" and that no further conferences would be held at this time.

Officials of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association declared that no concessions would be made beyond those presented to Mr. Davis and Admiral Benson of the shipping board yesterday. These proposals, based on a vote taken among locals at all ports, were not made public. Chairman Benson is understood to have reiterated his stand for a flat 15 per cent wage reduction.

Secretary Davis, in announcing the failure of the conferences, indicated that negotiations would be reopened later if circumstances warranted such a step.

DOCKS GUARDED

Clashes Threaten in Strikes at Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES—Mounted police heavily armed, guarded all approaches to the docks here today to prevent clashes between union and non-union workers.

The port was so tightly sealed that recent arrivals were unable to claim their baggage from the customs office.

The police were posted when the employers' association announced it would replace striking dock workers with non-union men. Union men threatened violence if they were replaced.

Strikers and strike-breakers made their way as usual to the docks today, but were surprised when halted more than a block from the waterfront. No effort was made to break thru the police cordon.

Among vessels involved in the dispute is the Martin Washington, an American boat chartered by the Munson Line. It was boycotted by dock workers when its officers refused to accede to demands of union leaders that parts of its crew be paid off.

LATE TRAIN CROSSES DAN CUPID'S WIRES

ST. MARYS — John Hofner, New Bremen, south of here, left last week for New York, to meet his bride-to-be, Teresa Ziberer, en route from Sopron, Austria.

They were to have been married in New York. Hofner's train was late and the girl wasn't sure he intended meeting her. She started for New Bremen. Hofner overtook her in Dayton, where a marriage license, a wedding ring and a minister were brought into action.

Hofner and his bride arrived in New Bremen Monday.

U. S. TAX BILL IS $3,500,000,000

This Sum Agreed on By Congress Committee

FAILS IN PLAN TO CUT

Program Includes Repeal of Several Levies, However

WASHINGTON — (By United Press)—America's annual tax bill will be fixed by congress at $3,500,000,000, if plans of leading members of the house ways and means committee go thru.

They would reduce the per-capita tax from $20 for every man, woman and child in the country, or $3,000,000,000, but with continued larger appropriations, they admit it is doubtful if it can be done.

The composite congressional mind after months of uncertainty seems to be gradually reaching the conclusion as to what taxes shall be imposed on the American people during the next few years.

It now appears certain that no sales tax will be enacted at this session, according to several leaders. Tax changes will be along the following lines:

TAXES TO BE REPEALED

1—Excess profits, now one of the big sources of revenue.
2—Soda water, ice cream and some of the more "obnoxious" consumption levies.
3—Transportation taxes.

Some uncertainty exists as to whether the theater admission taxes will be repealed.

NEW TAX BILL

The new tax bill in general will follow these lines:

1—Reduced surtaxes on higher incomes to the maximum percentage will not be more than 40 per cent.
2—Possible lowering of the normal income tax rate from four to three per cent, altho this has some opposition.

3—Increased flat corporation income tax from 10 to 15 per cent with the imposition of a levy of 15 per cent of undistributed profits of corporations, to make up for the loss caused by repeal of the excess profits tax. It is believed this would tend to prevent issuance of stock dividends, which have been held untaxable.

4—Increased tobacco taxes from 50 to 100.

5—Taxes of $6.40 a gallon on all liquors withdrawn from bond compared with the present rate of $3.90 and $2.20.

Some members have proposed increased taxes on automobiles and a federal license for all cars but there is strong opposition to this.

Taxes on estates, insurance, lodge and club dues, chili pepper profits and the so-called stamp taxes, as applied to various legal documents and business papers probably will remain the same.

FOUR DIE IN FIRE

Massachusetts Brothers Burned to Death in Home

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — (By Associated Press)—Four brothers were burned to death in a fire here early today, which partly destroyed their home.

STARTING NEAR THE FRONT ENTRANCE

of the house the flames spread rapidly and blocked the only exit from the rooms occupied by the youths who were found dead when reached by firemen.

They are Ledger, 21, Ernest 19, Warren, 14, and Lester Trembley 12, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Trembley. The cause of the fire was unknown.

Other occupants of the house, including the parents and a brother and a sister, were rescued.

PEDESTRIANS IN DANGER OF ELECTROCUTION

Death Faced Daily By Lima People Who Cross Car Tracks In N. Main-st., According to Mayor Burkhardt and City Engineer

That pedestrians in Lima daily face electrocution while crossing car tracks in N. Main-st., is the assertion made by Mayor F. A. Burkhardt, who states that the rails of the Ohio Electric between Wayne-st and the square constitute a menace, because they are not properly grounded or bonded.

"When cars pass, stray current is transmitted to the rails," the mayor said. "Any person crossing the track in the wake of a car might easily step on the rail in such a manner that a circuit would be created by their body. The least injury they could incur would be a severe shock and it would not be impossible that some person could be electrocuted in this fashion."

Instances have been known where people have been electrocuted in a bath tub, by a circuit created when an electric light was turned on.

STRAY CURRENT A MENACE

A common light wire carries but 108 volts. Trolley wires used for street cars carry more than 2,000 volts. Criminals who die in the chair are killed by 1,700 volts coursing thru their bodies. An equally large voltage is often transmitted to the rails by a passing car, officials say.

That rails are charged by stray currents of juice transmitted from passing street cars is a well known fact, the mayor said.

A common sight in Main-st is a pyrotechnic display caused by stray current burning at the joint of two rails. A light as brilliant as that of an arc lamp is created. Engineers state that the light is created on the same principle as an arc light, the joint in the rails forming the contact.

DANGER EXISTS

Mayor Burkhardt and City Engineer Vaughn Miller state that while they know of no instance where persons have sustained a shock here, it can easily occur. Their opinion is corroborated by H. C. Garner, an electrical expert, who prepared estimates for the boulevard lighting system.

Because the rails in N. Main-st are of lighter construction than elsewhere in the city, the ground wires and wires bonding the rails have been broken. Mayor Burkhardt states that the heaviest traffic in the city passes over this portion of the tracks where the rails are least calculated to carry it. He hopes to see the situation remedied when the street is repaved. At that time the Ohio Electric will have the opportunity to lay new steel and ground and bond the rails properly.

PRODUCES ELECTROLYSIS

Stray current is also raising havoc with gas and water mains under the street. City Engineer Miller says much of the leakage of water mains is attributed by Miller to the action of electricity, and gas officials state that relaying of a portion of their lines in Main-st is being contemplated.

THAT HAS TO GO SOME PLACE

It flows thru the ground to the pipe lines, eating the metal and bursting the joints. Engineers differ on just the exact action. Electricity does so many unaccountable things, they state, that it is hard to keep posted on its peculiarities, unless one is an expert.

Bluffton Man Left Unconscious—Lost Watch and $28

BLUFFTON.—(Special.)—Clare Stetler and Peter Schifferly, on their way home here Monday night shortly after 11 o'clock, found Adrian Grove, oil field worker, lying unconscious, having been beaten up and robbed by highwaymen.

A gold watch, an heirloom and $28 in money was taken from Grove after he had been assaulted by two men, who were hidden back of a small building. Grove was required to pass on his way home from the Western Ohio depot, having returned here from Findlay on the last car.

After regaining consciousness Grove stated that one of the men who attacked him was about 35 years old, heavy set and was dressed in black. The other was about 21 and wore overalls. Marshal Hanson Good and aides made a thorough search for the men, but without success.

Grove was not seriously injured, altho badly bruised from the beating he received.

EDISON CRITICISED BY OHIO STATE OFFICIALS

COLUMBUS.—Thomas A. Edison, who recently declared he found college men to be ignorant, was severely criticized for his view by Ohio State University officials today.

"We all know so little that it does not behoove any man to point out another and say: 'He is ignorant,'" Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State, said.

"THE ORIOLE"

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

SYNOPSIS Herbert Rooter, publisher of the "North End Daily Oriole," Florence Atwood, a young girl who takes it upon herself to aid the boys in their labors, is kind and gentle, and is out of the "building."

Herbert looked desperate, but was unable to form a reply consistent with some rules of etiquette and gallantry which he had begun to observe during the past year or so. "Now, see here, Florence," he said. "You're old enough to know when people tell you to keep out of a place, why, it means they want you to stay away from there."

"Florence remained cold to this reasoning. 'Oh, Pooty,' she said. 'Now, look here, my cousin, I'm not a newspaper editor, but I've got work to do, and you ought to have sense enough to know newspaper work like this newspaper work we got on our hands here isn't well, it ain't any child's play.'

"No, sir," Herbert continued. "This newspaper work we got on our hands here isn't any child's play."

"No, sir," Herbert continued. "This newspaper work we got on our hands here isn't any child's play."

"Well," the partner interrupted judicially. "We wouldn't want her around, even if it was child's play."

"We wouldn't want you around, anyway, Florence," he said. "Here his tone became more plaintive. 'So, for money's sake can't you go on home and give us a little rest? What do you want, anyhow?'

"Well, I guess it's about time you was skin' me that," she said. "I'm not a newspaper editor, but I've got work to do, and you ought to have sense enough to know newspaper work like this newspaper work we got on our hands here isn't well, it ain't any child's play."

"I thought being as I was related to you, and all the family and everybody else got to read your newspaper, anyway, it'd be a good thing if what was printed in it wasn't all a disgrace to the family, because the name of our family's got mixed up with this newspaper—so here!"

"Thus speaking, she took the poem from her pocket and with dignity held it forth to her cousin. "What's that?" Herbert inquired, not moving a hand. He was but an amateur, yet already enough of an editor to have his suspicions. "It's a poem," Florence said. "I don't know whether I exactly ought to have it in your old newspaper or not, but on account of the family's sake I guess I better. Here, take it."

Herbert at once withdrew a few steps, placing his hands behind him. "Listen here," he said; "you think we got time to read a lot of writing in your old-handwritten that nobody can read anyhow, and then go to work and toil and moil to print it on our printing press? I guess we got work enough printing what we wrote for our newspaper our own selves! My goodness, Florence, I told you this isn't any child's play!"

"All right, then," Florence responded, with apparent decisiveness. "I'll go and tell Uncle Joseph and he'll take this printing press back. 'He will not take it back. I already did tell him how you kept pokin' around, tryin' to run every thing, and we just worried our lives out, tryin' to keep you away. He said he bet it was a hard job, that's what Uncle Joseph said. So go on, tell him anything you want to. You don't get your old poem in our newspaper!"

"Not if she lived to be 200 years old!" Henry Rooter added. Then he had an afterthought. "Not unless she pays for it."

"How do you mean?" Herbert asked, puzzled. "Henry's brow had become corrugated with no little professional impressiveness. 'You know what we're talkin' about this morning,' he said. 'How the right way to run our newspaper, we ought to have some advertisements in it and every thing. Well, we want money, don't we? We could put this poem in our newspaper like an advertisement, that is, if Florence has got any money, we could.'

Herbert frowned. "If her old poem isn't too long, I guess we could. Here, let's see it, Florence." And, taking the sheet of paper in his hand, he studied the dimensions of the poem, the without, painting himself to read it. "Well, I guess maybe we can do it," he said. "How much ought we to charge her?"

This question plunged Henry Rooter into a stage of calculation, while Florence observed him with veiled anxiety; but after a time he looked up his brow showing continued strain. "Do you keep a bank, Florence—for nickels and dimes and maybe quarters, you know?" he inquired.

It was her cousin who impulsively replied for her. "No, she don't," he said.

"Not since I was about seven years old!" Florence added sharply. "Do you still make mud pies in your back yard, pray?"

"Now see here!" Henry objected. "Try and be a lady, anyway for a few minutes, can't you? I got to figure out how much we got to charge you for your old poem, don't you?"

"Well, then, Florence returned, 'you better ask me some'n about that, hadn't you?'

"Well," said Henry Rooter, 'have you got any money at home?'

"No, I haven't."

"Have you got any money with you?"

"Yes, I have."

"How much is it?"

Henry frowned. "I guess we ought to make her pay about two dollars and a half," he said, turning to his partner.

Herbert felt deferential; it seemed to him that he had formed a business association with a genius; and for a moment he was dazzled; then he remembered Florence's financial capacities, always well known to him and he looked depressed. Florence herself, looked indignant.

"Two dollars and a half?" she cried. "Why, I could buy this whole place for two dollars and a half, printing-press, railing, and all—yes and you thrown in, Mister Henry Rooter!"

"See here, Florence," Henry said earnestly. "Haven't you got two dollars and a half?"

"Of course she hasn't!" his partner assured him. "She never had two dollars and a half in her life!"

"Well, then," said Henry, gloomily, "what we got to do about it? How much you think we ought to charge her?"

Herbert's expression became non-committal. "Just let me think a minute," he said; and with his hand to his brow stepped behind the unsuspecting Florence.

"I got to think," he murmured; then with the straightforwardness of his age he suddenly seized his damsel cousin from the rear and held her in a tight but far from affectionate embrace pinning her arms. She shrieked "Murder!" and "Let me go!" and "Help! Help!"

"Look in her pocket," Herbert shouted. "She keeps her money in her skirt pocket when she's got any. It's on the left side of her. Don't let her kick you! Look out!"

"I got it!" said the dexterous Henry, retreating and exhibiting coins. "It's one dime and two nickels—twenty cents. Has she got any more pockets?"

"No, I haven't!" Florence fiercely informed him, as Herbert released her. "And I guess you better hand that money back if you don't want to be arrested for stealing!"

Henry was unmoved. "Twenty cents," he said calculatingly. "Well, all right; it isn't much, but you can have your poem in our newspaper for twenty cents, Florence. If you don't want to pay that much, why take your old twenty cents and go on away."

"Yes," said Herbert. "That's as cheap as we'll do it, Florence. Take it or leave it."

"Take it or leave it," Henry Rooter agreed. "That's the way to talk to her; take it or leave it, Florence. If you don't take it, you got to leave it."

Florence was indignant, but she decided to take it. "All right," she said coldly. "I wouldn't pay another cent if I died for it."

"Well, you haven't got another cent, so that's all right," Mr. Rooter remarked; and he honorably extended an open palm, supporting the coins, toward his partner. "Here; you can have the dime, or two nickels, whichever you'd rather have. I'd as soon have one as the other."

Herbert took the two nickels and turned to Florence. "See, here, Florence," he said in a tone of strong complaint. "This business is all done and paid for now. What you want to hang around here any more for?"

"Yes," Florence, his partner faithfully seconded him at once, "we haven't got any more time to waste around here today and so what you want to stand around in the way and everything for? You ought to know yourself we don't want you."

With a proud air she crushingly departed, and returned to her own home, far from dissatisfied with what she had accomplished. Moreover, she began to expand with the realization of a new importance, and she was gratified with the effect upon her parents at dinner time that evening when she informed them that she had written a poem which was to be published in the prospective first number of the "North End Daily Oriole."

HER OWN CAREER

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE MEETING

It was a glorious October day when Gwendia finally saw John Neale. She had had a busy morning running about the city, interviewing and was so tired by the time that four o'clock came that she decided to go to the Rotonde and have a cup of black coffee to buck her up before returning to the hotel.

Arrived there, she slipped into the dressing room and washed herself a bit, fluffed her hair out at the sides, then satisfied that she was looking her best, despite the hard work, she went back to one of the many tables and sat down.

As she looked across the room she felt her heart give a great leap, for there, sitting opposite to her, sat John Neale, and at his side was a pretty little French girl, smiling into his eyes in the taking way that French girls have.

Gwendia felt her cheeks burning, and there was an ache in her throat, as she stared, all unobserved by him, for she realized that John was obviously very happy.

She felt a sudden longing to go away, far away from the place— from Paris itself.

Just as she had decided upon a hasty retreat, John looked up, and caught sight of her.

It was a very flattering whoop that he gave, as he saw her, and the next instant, with a hurried apology to the damsel at his side, he was over, and bending down, looking eagerly into Gwendia's sunny eyes.

"Well, Gwendia, of all people, and here alone. What do you mean, naughty girl?" he said laughingly, as he shook her hand over and over again in his delight. "Gee, this is real. Looks like old times, and everything, Gwendia," he said as he sat down beside her. "When did you learn to run about Paris alone? And how dare Fodya permit it?"

"What about yourself, John?" suggested Gwendia with a smile, "and how can you be so faithless as to leave your lady-love sitting alone over there, my friend?"

"Lady-love be hanged," he exclaimed roughly. "Ain't no such person, out over there, at any rate. Oh, of course I've got a little girl I'm fond of, but she won't have me, no indeed, holds me off, and never dreams that I'm wearing my heart away for love of her. Just my luck, too," he finished sadly.

"Faint heart never won fair lady, you know," said Gwendia, smiling up distractingly into his eyes.

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH OF THE EARS AND NOSES

If you know of some one who is troubled with catarrh of the ears, cut out this pattern and send it to them and you have laid the means of saving him from suffering periods from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and treatment requires constitutional

Snuffs, inhalers and nose douches are able to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear, which frequently causes total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally dangerous.

The following formula which is used in the famous English clinic as a constitutional treatment and cures even especially efficacious in cases of chronic catarrh of the nose and throat.

Measure from your druggist 1 ounce of Glycerine (Double strength). Take water and a little granulated sugar, stir well dissolved. Take one table-spoonful four times a day. This will bring quick relief from distressing ear, breathing become easy and hearing restored as the inflammation in the middle ear is reduced. The treatment in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic effect which helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person suffering from catarrh of the nose or throat should give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

They are Happy and Well

You Should Be the Same

A LARGE number of women's ailments are not surgical ones. Serious displacements or radical changes have not yet taken place.

A tiny part in a fine clock may become loose and cause the clock to gain or lose. If not attended to in time, the part may fall from its place and cause serious trouble. So it is with women's ailments, they start from simple causes: but if allowed to continue, produce serious conditions.

When the warning symptoms are first noted, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present troublesome ailment, and to prevent the development of serious trouble.

North Troy, N. Y.—"When I was a young girl I had a severe female trouble. Mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after taking several bottles I was strong and well. When my daughter got married she was feeling miserable and I recommended your medicine. She is greatly improved in health and has a beautiful baby boy four months old. So you see this letter comes from the third generation and you may use it as you wish."—Mrs. R. M. GREENAWAY, 567 4th Ave., North Troy, N. Y.

Hutchinson, Kan.—"I was about 13 years old when I developed a female weakness. My mother took me to a doctor and I doctored for several months. I was too sick to do anything, was as thin as could be, and my complexion was yellow. Mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it had helped her so much that she got some for me and before I had finished the second bottle I was feeling fine and have been ever since."—Mrs. J. A. # LIONS' TEAM PLAYS ROTES TODAY

ANGLO-YANK SPORTS ARE FAVORED BY YOUNG PRINCE

EXPECT LIVELY GAME WHEN BOTH OUTFITS GET WARMED UP

The roar of the Lions will be heard at the Murphy-st ball park this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when the baseball teams representing that organization will play the Rotary nine in the second game of the Business Club League.

Elaborate plans have been made by members of the Lions' club for the game. They will all meet uptown and march to the ball park, wearing small emblematic caps of brilliant colors.

A section of the grandstand has been reserved for the Lions, and they say they have several surprises in store for those who avail themselves of the opportunity to attend the game.

A yell leader is understood to have been selected, and the entire club plans to drown out any vocal protests advanced by members of the opposing club—the Rotarians.

ASHLEY IN CHARGE
The Lions will be in charge of E. Ashley, president of the club, after the members gather to attend the game in a body.

Besides, the Lions say they are going to have a most surprising surprise for their rivals when they introduce the pitcher for the day. The hurler does not live in Lima, he said, but is well known here and has pitched for the Lima Indians before.

Rhodes, the Rotary pitcher, is understood to be suffering from a sprained ankle which he sustained in the game last Sunday when he pitched for the Lima Independents against the Springfield White Sox.

UNABLE TO PLAY
He will be unable to play today. Just what the Rotars have lined up to pitch causes much concern in the ranks of the other clubs in the league.

Last week the Rotarians humped the Kiwanians in the first game of the league. With the loss of Rhodes, fans doubt if they can repeat their victory over the team representing the Lions club.

The Kiwanians will get another chance Thursday, when they are to meet the Elks' team.

A "DARK HORSE"
The Elks' outfit is the real "dark horse" of the league. Fans don't see what material Roy Enoch, manager, has left to build up a team with. The announcement of the personnel of his line-up is keenly awaited by scores of anxious fans, who are doubtful as to his efforts.

Giuseppe Judge Emanuel Jackson and Cappy Wessels will again be in charge of the game, and both officials are determined to get the game underway by 4 o'clock promptly.

LET'S START EARLIER
Since the game last Thursday scores of fans are of the opinion that the league games should start half an hour earlier. With games not starting until 4 o'clock, it is after 6 o'clock before it is finished.

That's too late, is the general opinion which seems to be existing among the majority of fans.

VETERAN MAY AGAIN PLAY IN MINORS

TOLEDO.—The return of Roger Bresnahan as an active participant in a baseball game appeared likely today when Bresnahan, who is president of the Toledo club of the American Association, announced that his efforts to obtain a suitable backup had been unavailing.

Bresnahan has been out of the game and has not been in first class condition to take up heavy work. He is in Toledo but is expected to join the club in Milwaukee within a day or two.

The Toledo club has Charles Moran, a former University catcher, but he is hampered by an injury to his back. Bresnahan expected the return of Larry Woodall from the Detroit American League club but that deal also is believed to have fallen through. Woodall came here last season on an optional release but was recalled by Detroit at the close of the playing season.

MITT ARTISTS TO APPEAR IN OHIO

CLEVELAND.—George L. Kelly Chaney, and Harry Price, of Detroit, will appear in a boxing bout decision bouts during an open air boxing show at Dunn field here on the night of June 2.

Chaney will meet Billy Moran, Cleveland lightweight, in the main bout. They are to weigh 133 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Push is not best against Edith Wallace, of New York, in the semifinals. They are featherweights.

Another bout on the program is a ten round no-decision bout between Frankie Rice, Baltimore, and Gene Delmont, Memphis, at 123 pounds.

TENNIS MEET AT CENTRAL HI STARTS

The Central High Tennis tournament, successfully opened Monday when McPherson and Monahan defeated Hinkley and Reeves, two sets out of three, 5-7, 6-0, 6-0. Wallace and Churchill also defeated Hinkley and Reeves, 6-4, 6-2. All teams were from Junior High school.

The matches were hard fought and interesting. Hinkley and Reeves won their first set in a hard fought battle, 5-7. The next two sets, McPherson and Monahan hit their stride and kept their opponents from winning a game. Wallace and Churchill had to work hard to win their first set but took the next one easily.

SECOND ROUND.
McPherson and Monahan will play Wallace and Churchill in the second round of the tournament on May 16.

Tuesday, Creighton and Hakestraw and Daugherty and Telling will play on one court while Freysinger and Hannaff will meet Reese and Garmhausen on the other court. These matches should be close and interesting. The first round will be completed on Friday and the finals on May 26th.

Physical Director Fred Wallace, who is conducting the tournament, himself played at the opening matches and is confident that this will be one of central's most successful Spring sports. All games are played on the College courts and start at 4:15 p. m.

O'CONNELL IS WINNER BY A KAYO
CINCINNATI. Charlie O'Connell, Cleveland, proved too rangy and too strong for Frankie Nessler, Cincinnati, in a scheduled ten-round bout here last night.

After knocking Nessler down in the fourth for a brief count O'Connell crossed his right to Nessler's jaw as the first blow in the sixth round, and Nessler was unable to get up at the count of ten. It was a hard fight while it lasted and drew a big crowd. O'Connell's victory gives him the lightweight championship of Ohio.

REDS ARRIVE IN GOTHAM ON TOUR

NEW YORK. The invading Reds rolled into the big city at six bells Monday evening after a long, two-day tour from the old home town. They reported at once to their hotel, changed on the spot, and then, after a brief rest, they were taken to the hotel where they were to stay. They were taken to the hotel where they were to stay.

There are no bad actors or night prowlers on this year's team, and all the boys realize that they are setting out on a long hard trip into the enemy's country, and they are anxious to make as good a showing as possible, while enduring on foreign fields.

ARE IN GOOD SHAPE
The team arrived in good shape and much cheered over Sunday's brilliant victory in which they checked the long winning streak of the Pirates with a firm and decisive battle. As a matter of fact the team has been playing much better ball than its standing in the race would indicate. It has had a lot of hot breaks and has been hitting its natural ability just as the Pirates have been hitting above them.

It would be a little better for the Reds if they were to play at home for the next three weeks instead of being on the road, where they will miss their regular morning practice, but all these things even up in the long run and if the team is in the race late in the season it will have the big advantage of playing a full month of September on its own grounds.

EIGHTEEN GAMES
The Reds are scheduled for eighteen games on this trip. They have four each in Brooklyn, New York and Boston, in the order named, and three each in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. As there can be no double headers on this trip, Manager Morgan is pretty well satisfied that his pitching staff will hold up and he expects to keep the group clubs along the Atlantic Coast many a hard battle.

The team will get the hardest part of its work off its chest during the next eight days. Opening today for a series of four contests at Ebbets Field, it will shift on Saturday to the home grounds for four games with the Giants.

MEET THE BEST
This first week will therefore be the big test of the actual strength of the club, for the boys meet the best that the East has to offer right in the reel. The Reds have the satisfaction of being the only Western club to break successfully thru the powerful defense of the Pirates, who have suffered only four defeats, three of which were inflicted by the Reds. This means well for a team showing against the champions and the Giants, and these boys are full of confidence that their record will be a commendable one by the time this trip is over.

SHORT SHAVINGS

A Salina man tells this as happening to him. Early in the morning one winter's day, came a winged one.

from a friend in Chicago: "How's the weather today out there?" "The sun is shining," the Salina man wired. An hour later friend wired again: "Could not interpret message. Did you say sun was or was not shining?" And the Salina man, looking out of the window, sent this: "Snowing to beat the band now." And came another wire in mid-afternoon: "How much snow there now?" To which the Salina man replied: "Bright sun out, has melted all the snow away again."

A number of stars on the cuff of a soldier aroused the fair visitor's curiosity.

He's the battalion astronomer," explained her escort, gravely. "Most useful man. Guides us home by the stars when we've lost our way on night maneuvers." "How interesting," said the maiden. "Then, nothing," the astronomer's badge, the representation of an ancient stringed instrument, she exclaimed, slyly: "I suppose that thing on your arm means that you're the regimental lyre?"

Actor-manager of touring company snarled and tore his hair. "Found our luck!" he said. "The big lady has deserted us in our hour of need—cloped with the officer in yonder public house—on five all evenings, when the audience stuns to outnumber the cast."

FOUR DAINY DANCING DOLLIES ARE ARRESTED BY CLEVELAND POLICE

CLEVELAND. — Four Cleveland women were held by police today in connection with a recent dancing exhibition by "six dainty dancing dollies," which distributed a general blush among the authorities of Lorain, Ohio.

The women, who gave the names of Mrs. Esther Seahatter, 20; Mrs. Mayme Vera Schultz, 22; Mildred Drotar, 20, and Peggy Drotar, 22, were arrested at their homes last night on a charge of giving an immoral exhibition.

The dance was given May 2. Police authorities of Lorain said a smile composed the major portion of each woman's costume.

The women allege that their manager is responsible for the whole affair. He has a dozen women for the entertainment of the "tired business men" in smaller towns, they said.

They told Cleveland police that they had danced in Columbus and Elyria, but on those occasions the costumes were not quite so "pronounced."

The women are being held for Lorain authorities. They deny their costumes were shocking.
